

Cruise ship etiquette

How to have happiness on the high seas

In 2019, more than 26 million people worldwide went on a cruise vacation.<sup>1</sup> Cruise ships can carry 800 to 3,500+ passengers.<sup>2</sup> The most popular length of time for a cruise is seven days.<sup>3</sup> That's up to seven days in limited space with thousands of passengers. Don't let limited space equate to limited courtesy. Here's a guide to cruise ship etiquette:

- 1 Show spatial awareness
  Invite others to join your table if the dining room is crowded.
- 2 Kid control

  Keep a mindful eye on your children for safety and as a courtesy to other travelers while on the cruise.4
- 3 Deck chair patrol

  If you have been lounging on the sun deck for a while, offer your deck chair to others waiting if it is crowded.
- Avoid seat saving

  Arrive to onboard activities as a group to sit together at the same time. Avoid reserving empty chairs when others are trying to find a seat.

Quiet quarters

Be mindful of your volume and avoid slamming the door to your cabin.

6 Dress code

Remember to pack and wear appropriate clothing for special onboard activities or formal restaurants.

7 Keep complaints courteous

Make your requests known graciously to cruise crew members and/or front desk staff.
